

Singaporean designer and dance, yoga and environmental enthusiast, Min Sim dedicates her latest line to women who enjoy active and green living. Her eco-friendly activewear collection, Om Republic, encompasses clean lines and interesting twists, creating a modern oriental look for the yoga or dance studio.

www.omrepublic.com

Conceived by the creative minds of yoga instructor, Tanya Boulton, and fashion designer, Karin Ulmänder, Tanya-b is passionate about creating active apparel for the style-conscious yogi. Designed with urban lifestyles in mind, their form-fitting designs are versatile, functional and fashionable.

www.tanya-b.com

Using technologically advanced fabrics from Italy and New Zealand, Abi and Joseph is the brainchild of ex dancer and former Pilates instructor, Abi White. The range includes specialty fabrics infused with vitamin C and essential oils that moisturise the skin while releasing a faint citrus fragrance.

www.abiandjoseph.com

Quirky prints, colours and shapes are the signatures of funky yogawear label, we'ar. Created by eco-activist and designer Jyoti Morningstar, its fashion-forward pieces are styled from earth friendly fabrics that can be worn from the yoga mat to the streets.

<http://we-ar.it/>

Made from organic cotton, Easyoga's collection of design-driven pieces are made to enhance performance. With a wide range of clean cuts in fresh colours, this eco-friendly brand makes it easy to look stylish on the mat.

www.easyoga.com

Combining inspiration from nature and the demands of modern living, Ja'maire's high-quality yoga pieces are flexible, functional and well-fitted. Garments support the

